6-1. The games were usually short and decisive without any long rallies or exchanges. Once in a while, when the challenges ran in, Larned would lob over to him, and get his opponent on the keen run to the back court in pursuit of the ball. Clothier's overhead work was in the main better than his ground strokes, and Larned's game was at his best.

This is the fifth time in his long career on the American courts and the third time in succession that Larned has won the championship, thus putting him ahead of R. D. First prices here were all the way from 11-2 in Union Pacific common and preferred to 21-2 in Southern Pacific, with numerous other issues higher by a point. Trading was sufficiently impreasive to warrant a bellef that it had its origin in responsible quarters. Very heavy covering of short contracts was also indulged in. Early gains were soon lost, however, with the attack upon United States Steel, and while some recovery was made, it was at the expense of diminished operations, a fact in itself regarded as somewhat significant. During the early afternoon business continued very duil, with narrow price movements and no definite trend either way. Just before the closing the list sold off abruptly on rumors coneither way. Just before the closing the list sold off abruptly on rumors connected with Mr. Harriman, and for a time the market looked squally, but in the final five minutes this condition underwent another change in favor of better prices and general net gains for the day. The closing, however, was decidedly irregular. Forecasts of the weekly money movements point to a slight gain by local banks from the interior. There were no marked changes in the general monetary situation, which reflects the greatest case all over the country and abroad. The bond market was irregular, with much less business than on the previous day.

Responds About Athletics.

In response to some charges by Manager Mack that Tyrus Cobb is a dirty ball player and ought to be barred from the American league, Manager Jennings comes back with the taunt that the Athletics are quitters. Cobb insists that he has never yet gone out of line to injure any opponent and demands only his right to the base lines, guaranteed by the rules. Jennings says Mack showed the yellow streak in squealing after a series of unbroken defeats, and taunts the Athletics with being quitters, as he says letics with being quitters, as he says they were in the famous 1907 series with the Tigers, and before that in the world's esries of 1905.
